Article 1 The operational rules are established to enhance the Chinese proficiency of international graduate students at Chung Yuan Christian University and to promote the learning effectiveness and the immersion of Chinese culture. The rules are applicable to the international graduate students who begin their degree programs in or after the 2016 fall semester. International Graduate Students shall take Chinese courses and pass the Test of Chinese Language Proficiency (TOCFL) basic level exam, and obtain a basic level certificate before they can graduate.

Article 2 International graduate students who have already obtained TOCFL Basic Level-A2 certificate before their admission to CYCU are exempt from taking Chinese courses and are eligible for graduation.

Article 3 International graduate students who have completed and passed 2 semesters of Chinese courses in their previous high school or college for which they attended are exempt from taking Chinese courses and passing the TOCFL Basic Level-A2 test are eligible for graduation.

Article 4 If International graduate students do not meet the above two conditions, they shall complete either four semesters or four courses of Chinese enhancement courses before graduation. Moreover, they shall pass either the "Basic Level" (A2) of the Test of Chinese as a Foreign Language (TOCFL) and obtain a certificate, or participate in CYCU's comprehensive Chinese test and pass with a score of 60 or above in both listening and reading sections. If students passed the above test during the semester and registered at the Office of International and Cross-Strait Education, they are exempt from continuing to take Chinese courses and are eligible for graduation as far as the threshold for Chinese proficiency is concerned.

Article 5 The above rules are not applicable to the dual-degree students; however, they shall enroll in at least 1 Chinese course in every semester to satisfy the graduation threshold for Chinese proficiency at CYCU.

Article 6 The rules shall be reported to the President of CYCU for promulgation and implementation after approval by the Academic Affairs Meeting. The same shall apply when amended.
